I, G. W. S. Grove, Clerk of the County Court of Hampshire County, West Virginia, the same being a Court of Record, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the Will of Margaret See, filed in my office and probated in said office on the 14th day

(Signed) G. W. S. Grove, Clerk County Court, Hampshire County, West Virginia.

Notes:

In Margaret See's Will "Yokeham" probably means "Yocum."
Perhaps the two "Yokehams" were children of a departed daughter.
The cross for her signature may or may not mean she could not write. As people grew old they lost their sight, for spectacles were not much used in that day and place.

Aug. 28, 1751, Frederick See qualified Administrator of George See.

Chalkley Records, Vol. 1, p. 46

Michael See, born about 1730, married about 1750, killed

(2) or Hardy County Families?

About 1793. Adam See and a younger brother Michael Jr. Come to Randolph County W. Va. - Adam was an able lawyer and started practice in Randolph Co. that year. He had studied at Dixon College in Carlisle Pa. - and attended Courts else where -

Adam See married Margaret daughter of Captain Jacob Warwick of Revolution - they came in 1794. (Bath Co Court Records) -

Michael See the younger brother went back to Hardy County and married Catherine daughter of Anthony Baker a soldier of the Revolution (see military Hist.) - Michael and Catherine Baker See reared 9 children Adam; Anthony B. Jacob; John; Delamoon and Noah b 1815 - The daughters were Mary & Pally; Elizabeth; and Barbara.

Pally See of this family married her cousin George See son of Adam & Margaret Warwick. They were the parents of several sons and daughters -

I have here a letter from Mr J. B. See of Valley Head W. Va a grandson of George See and Pally See nee See in Virginia and were honored guests among their relatives. Thus they came to know the relations. See Family in America -

10 marriage seems to be a great mistake can see where in the ancestry as recorded has in Randolph Co N. Va of the Family See.

11 I do not claim this version to be entirely correct, but I believe it to be more nearly so than any I have seen in print.

12 I have before me a letter from a Mr Ferrell of Wichita Kansas, who was reared in Lewis County N. Va.

13 He says: "I have before me a letter from Mr Dymour De of French Creek N. Va, who was a playmate of my father. He wants information about his family See.

14 The De must have been born about the time my father was, some time close to 1856. He is a son of Anthony Baker De who died aged 47. This leads 15 me to conjecture Anthony B. De was born around 1812. (This is approximately correct) Dymour says his father reared 12 children ten of whom reared 16 families. These Dees intermarried with some of my father's Yankee kin from New England who settled in N. Va in 1816. - Can you place Anthony

3 in 1848. They knew their kin there in Virginia and were honored guests among their relatives. Thus they came to know much of their families and family relationships. Mrs Mary G. See says in her letters: Grand father Adam See (born 1764) married Margaret Warwick (1794). was a son of Michael See and his wife Barbara Harness-See of Hardy Co W. Va.

Mr and Mrs Peter H. See of Staunton Va were the parents of eight children two of whom are in the Presbyterian Ministry. Rev Gamble See and his sister Miss Ruth See, were missionaries to Brazil; the names of the others except Miss Nellie and Bessie and another married daughter living in Louisiana, Hallie are unknown to the writer.

Miss Margaret Gamble only sister of Mrs Mary's See. makes her home with the latter in Staunton. These two and one other cousin are the only known living grand children of Adam and Margaret Warwick - See in 1931 -

I can't give you any information about the Stumps except that Leonard Stump Sr. married my great aunt Katy See who was the sixth daughter of Michael See who married Barbara Barnes. My great grand father Michael See had three sons and seven daughters the sons were Adam; George (who married Catherine Seymour) and Michael.

The eldest daughter Pally; married a Mr Shanklin;

Hannah the second daughter (married a Mr Renick);

The third daughter Christina (married Mr Seymour);

The fourth Barbara (married Mr Paulsen);

The fifth Betty (married Isaac Millan);

The sixth Katy (married Leonard Stump)

The seventh Daisy married twice 1st to Thompson, 2nd McKinley.

My grand father Adam See married Margaret Warwick, whose father

Major Jacob Warwick lived in Bath County Va. Jacob Warwick's wife was Mary Vance. He figured prominently in the memorable battle of Point Pleasant, and was believed by many to have been

7) untrustworthy in turning the tide of that sanguinary and doubtful struggle in favor of the whites. The only one of the Stump name I ever met, was a captain in the Confederate army, a large fine looking man, about whom a little cousin of mine remarked: "That man looks more like a tree than a Stump!"

Mrs Orion Knig Sue Miller; of Circleville Ohio. Says, her great grandfather Michael See Miller was a son of Betty See Miller a daughter of Michael See and Barbara Harwood See Elizabeth (Betty) See was born Aug 14 - 1756 died April 14 - 1794. Married Cassin Miller Oct 28. 1777. in Hampshire County (W. Va.)

Isaac Miller born Feb 9 - 1757 - died Jan 23 - 1816 - and fought in the Revolutionary War - papers are proved.

Catherine (Pety) See born Feb 26, 1754 - died April 23, 1827 -

She married Leonard Stump Sr 1773.

What an idea this story gives those rude and stormy times -

George Lee son of Michael and Barbara Hornes Lee, married Catherine Lee Moore and was killed by lightning together with his father and a Negro servant while making hay on his fathers farm near Moore field in Hardy County W Va This happened in the summer of 1794 only a day or two before

After Adam See married Margaret Harwick in Bath Co Va 1794.

Mrs Mary Gamble-See says: "Grand father was preparing to make a journey to Hardy Co. to take his bride to see his father's family, the Michael See's Sr.
Grand father Adam was in a meadow helping the servants round up his horses, when a sudden Thunders Storm came up. Some one suggested taking shelter under a tree. Grand father advised against this and they took shelter under some bushes. The tree they proposed going under was rent by a bolt of lightning. When Adam and Margaret Sr reached Hardy County they learned of the death of Michael, his son George and a Negro servant, who were killed by a bolt of lightning, while taking shelter under a tree, the same day.

Adam Sr advised his companions not to ever go under trees in Thunders storms. Michael Sr and his son George were putting up hay at the time they were killed.

"oh yes" I have heard this ever and over."

The De family name takes the several forms in early record viz; De Cie; De Cie; De Cie; 7; 2; 34 and De Cie consisted so far as appears of the heads of families Isaac De Cie and his wife Esther. Their son Isaac Jr and their daughter Marie wife of Nicholas De Daux (Daux).

Isaac's first wife was also Marie. The Dees obtained two farms on Charles Neck one of 194 acres and 240 in the other. by patent Sept 29. 1677. but after living there some years they removed to Phillips Manor in Westchester Co N.Y.

written by Mr Maxwell p 398 There is an account of the De Vaux De Vaux the De Vaux De Vaux in his diary.

Nov. 16 1819. A vivid description of a bleak November day, black clouds, and a melancholy air - a graphic picture of the lovely mountains, the deep valley, with its ribbon like river. Dr Foster's of the narrow bridge path - His attention is drawn to the house of Mr S. perched on a mountain side, over hung by a creepier - Foster remarks "A fitting retreat for a persecuted religious a residence becoming the Waldenses, these French Protestants." This was the part of Hampshire County Va. The scene came to.

The true Walloon, from which Waldense is an extraction, is derived from the word Gaul, which the Germans by an etymological substitution of W- for G- (in Latin) changed to Wahl and plural Wahlen - Low Dutch Waal and Waalen - But both German and Dutch, used the adjective Walloon calling them Walche people -

The Germans called all Roman and the conquered peoples of Rome Walsche.
Italy was known as Walschland - The French called it Wallon only

(28) descent.

Picardy is that stretch of Country from Pallais to the river Canche and the Brille flowing into the Somme.
bordering Walloon on the North and the provinces of Artois, Cambres and Hainault - On the South Norman by and the Isle of France, on the East Flandre and Vermandois. Picardy was a heavily wooded well watered hilly Country. Within these hills dwelt the Eusey Huguenots a term applied to both the Walloons and Picards.

The latter Country abounded in grasses grains and orchards etc and was called the granary of France - Walloon was called "the store house of Paris"

Flanders was world renowned for her wools; Hainault since Roman times for her coal forests "Saltes Carboneries" iron and marble. The grain and orchards of Normandy are ~~much~~ unrivalled.

This harkens a section of France was barely cultivated as compared with the south, paucity bordering Cannes and slavery.

The small population of Picardy and Wallon was a factor in the manner development of its men both physically and mentally. In stature they were above the average; strong boned, intelligent, industrious and inventive; better fed and educated.

The Wallons were pure Gallie. They lived along the river Rys embracing French Flanders. Their Capital was Meneu a fruitful region and in the 16th Century an independent Protestant State.

The Walloons were a hardy ^{brave} ~~brave~~ race tall stout and muscular quite unlike the ordinary French more nearly resembling the Flemings, but readily distinguished by their physical form and speech a crude French Latin unchanged by the centuries - strong intellect, practical and sagacious with plain Latin. Their coolness particularly contrasting with the true Celt.

Caesar said they were "the bravest of all Gauls". Tenacious of their rights in 1568 they fought, not hospitable and sociable. - "The evening much perverted" and lacking name of the domestic ambition.

The Wallons at Sarbonne in Paris showed the first fruits of The Reformation.

17) France. To throw France into a shambles in 15-25 and the land reaped in the blood of the Martyrs - The Normans at last took up arms in 562 and the war lasted thirty years - only by this heroic stand were they enabled to maintain an existence.
In 1578 Henry IV issued the "Edict of Nantes" throwing protection over the Huguenots and they prospered as in no other period - succeeding reigns soon violated this treaty; they were forced from public affairs and abandoned by the nobility - they then knew they must leave their beloved country and seek asylum elsewhere.

Inquiry can but poorly illustrate the wanderings of these people from Ireland to England, the Palatines in Germany and the West Indies.

The Picards were sanguine and choleric reproaching the Belgae in morals and physical development, yet a broader heart - they held their neighbors and all others in disdain. Their love of independence was not so strong as their love of equality - this vanity disturbed the popular conscience to wealth and titles.

They were stout and belated - yet with out the assistance of the Normans.

(3) are the superlatives of the Champinai and were more religious than either - They had a sparkling wit, mirth and biting sarcasm - a lively, discreet, honest, generous people -

Modesty made them industrious, their natural ~~but~~ ^{toward} ease and comfort; But some of France's most brilliant Doctors scientists and Divines came from Picardy - Agriculture was carried on extensively and excellently being their chief occupation - "They could not add to any society so fortunate as to attract them"

The Pisto as they were called was derived from a pique an ancient weapon
The German appellation "Ard" meaning species or race - Thence they came to be called Picards as they were most expert handlers of this weapon -

Johnson says this appellation dates back to 1300 A.D. but it is certain that this term was applied to some notoriously quarrelsome fellows at Sarbourn as early as the 11th Century.

Since then these racial characteristics have come down to our American Picards and are evident - even to this day - many errors made in enumerating the descendants of this family and with the

The Hon Thomas J. J. See U.S. Naval Observatory head at Mare Island Calif., has a major account of the See family in his Biography by Webb. He states that George See married Joanna Barnes 1766 - two years ~~before~~ ^{after} my ancestor Adam See was born - was the father of Adam and Michael See of Randolph Co W. Va. -

Mr Le Roy See of E. I. King sent me extracts from this George See's will. He secured it from some Supreme Court proceedings about 1890. George See had died in 1815 and a law suit to quiet titles to some real estate had been brought. The will is not set forth in full but his children names are given. They were

Henry, John, William

Phoebe Cushman -

Catherine Pace -

Anna Shoup. She married Leonard and he - old N. E. P. Magazine June 1930 -

Adam See
George See Jr
John See.

This is, I think, the George See who settled his mother's estate in 1757 - at Lanney and a brother to Michael and Frederick, killed in Greenbrier in what is now Summers Co. W. Va. -

There is no mention of a son Michael in these court proceedings. Mr. Le Roy see makes mention of this omission in his letter to me.

Because of the similarity of names in the families it has been hard to keep track of the children in each - and the name George has come down to a child in each successing generation as also the name Adam and this has caused confusion.

Mrs Catherine See Myers of South Bend Indiana wrote me she was a daughter of an Adam See who lived at Adam Center Indiana her father came from Kuster New York. her grand father was Adam See and he married in New York Miss Catherine Van Allen in 1810. She has cousins with the same ^{Christian} ~~family~~ name as are found in our family, Hannah etc.

27) This similarity of Christian names are acceptable data to genealogists.

I believe our early See line came from New York and possibly inter-married with the Dutch. Hence the tradition of Dutch decent. Peter See born 1677 married.

Peter's sister de Montague she was a sister of Christina who married Nicholas Martenson Roosevelt. Ancestor of Theodore Roosevelt.

The Sees in Ky. are the direct descendants of Garred See who married Florence (Jett) Garred in Greenbrier Co W Va. about 1792.

Florence Garred was the 2nd daughter of David Garred and Jane Graham, who in turn was the 2nd daughter of Col James Graham of ~~Brook~~ the Revolution.

William Graham (died 1749) and his wife Jane - of Graham's family (West Ky)

John Graham Sr of the Cal. Pasture in Augusta Co Va took these two children as wards in 1751 - and reared them.
John married his first cousin Florence or Flare.

David the other son of John married Jane Backus and was dead by 1771 -

Florence Graham of John Graham Sr

He was born in 1844 and married James Feb., 17 - 1862 - They lived in Ingham Co until 1872 then moving to what is now Summers Co (W) Va.

Garred See, who married James Garred ^{in 1892} was no doubt a grand son of Frederick See -

In 1818 Garred See and his family moved to Kentucky Their children were John; William; Michael; Flora; Betty; David; and Garred Jr.

This material is taken from a little book written by David Graham of Summers Co W. Va. When he was eighty years of age - He had been to Kentucky 44 years before and again about 1900
He was a grand son of Col James Graham and also David Graham, James brother. his parents being first cousins -

J. Will See of Lenoir Kentucky says Garred See came to Ky from Greenbrier Co W. Va and is understood to have had a brother who went to Indiana Garred See was probably a son of John or Michael See who himself

29 went to Illinois and Paul Thasanti - Pascaly Garryd See's Mother was a friend of Sumner's Co. N.Y. - hence the name Garrett or Garryd as the Ky branch spelled it.

Mr. Ferrell, of Wichita Kan, wrote me there is a movement in Illinois to place a monument to John See for his Revolutionary Services. I sponsored by the daughters of the American Revolution. Stephen Decatur Chapter

It has been suggested that he was one of the famous itinerant weavers who traveled from settlement to settlement doing the fine weaving for the more prosperous families, being welcomed into the household as a craftsman and also a bearer of news of other settlements. We definitely know that in this period he became an expert frontiersman.

There is another tradition which should be included here to the effect that Alexander was married before he left Scotland and brought his family to America where at some time within this period his cabin was attacked by Indians in his absence, and his wife and children all murdered. The writer is inclined to feel that this was experienced by his younger brother Matthew, and has heard the same tradition related about Matthew. The absence of any available record of any permanent residence of Alexander during this period gives additional weight to this belief.

In the year 1771 we can imagine the household of JOHN ADAM ROUSH welcoming Alexander Waddell to their home in the Mill Creek Valley near Mt. Jackson, Va. They had not seen him for over a year and his news of the other settlements was warmly welcomed while the womenfolk of the house made haste to prepare the flaxen thread that the expert weaver would transform into beautiful linen. Probably the most excited was 19 year old ELEANOR ROUSH who had met the mature ALEXANDER WADDELL on previous visits, then 39 years old and in the prime of life. We do not know the exact day of their marriage. Their grand-daughter says it was in 1771 or 1772. It is possible that it was in 1770. In any event about 1771 this newly married couple left the comparative safety of the Shenandoah Valley and settled in the heart of the Allegheny Mountains on the very edge of the frontier. The site of this home which was only to be moved a short distance a few years later to gain the height of Buckeye Mountain was in Pocahontas County, along the Greenbrier River, just south of Marlinton (New West Va.) This site was then in Botetourt County, later Bath County and finally Pocahontas. Price's History of Pocahontas County dwells at length on Alexander Waddell and his descendants.....We will insert the Price article.....

ALEXANDER WADDELL. One of the pioneers of our county from whom quite a number of our people trace their descent was Alexander Waddell. He was of Scotch-Irish descent and was among the earliest settlers in the community, of Parvin Chapel. His wife a Miss House. He came from Augusta County before the Revolution, but in what year is not certainly known. He came out to the lands beyond Buckeye and around Sewall's Cave, and selected the place so long known as the Waddell Place, where the public road reaches the highest point on the mountain in passing from Buckeye to Millpoint.

affairs of Gallia County. His wife Mary died 6 March 1827 in Gallia Co. and is buried Mt. Zion Cemetery. We do not know the date but William's second marriage was to Sarah (Rossen)Simons a widow. There were no children by this marriage.

William built the first home in the valley west of Mt. Zion and the present Waddell House (red brick). The original home was two story, weather-boarded log house and it stood until about 1924. It was about 1830 that he built the red brick which was farther from the road, the one on the road being built by his son William J. He purchased sizeable tracts of land and from him each of his nine daughters received farms. In 1825 William set aside a plot of ground on his place for a church. This was and is Fairfield Church which was the place of worship of all the clan until Mt. Zion was built, after which date those closer whrshipped there. The Rev. Lester L. Roush, editor of this volume, served his first pastorage on this charge. William Waddell died 1 January 1859 and is buried at Mt. Zion
